Editoriales.

A sky-scraper to be 12 stories high and made entirely of glass has been begun in New York. People who live in it won't be able to throw stones.

Scientists claim that there is as much nutrition in 5 cents worth of peanuts as in 60 cents worth of beefsteak. If it can be demonstrated, a nickel's worth of peanuts will soon sell for 10 cents.

There is a popular uprising in London against Jack Johnson appearing in public on the stage and his dates have been cancelled. Our English brethren seem to do some things better than we, who should have never let the lecherous brute get that far from home.

A New York woman advertises her home for sale to negroes only, because her neighbor refuses to remove an unused chicken house. If the house was filled with chickens she'd stand more chance of selling her house to negroes.

Senator Bradley spoke against the administration tariff bill and lauded the Payne-Aldrich inquiry. The Senator seems engaged in that very useless performance charged against St. Paul—kicking against the pricks.

Editor Spencer Cooper, of the Hazel Green Herald, says: "Life at Swango Springs continues good." Away, away from everywhere, shut in by the eternal hills, far from the maddening crowd, with good water and fried spring chicken, old ham and other good things galore, life could not be other than good there.

It begins to feel like the coolness which springs up between the weather and the weather man is being dispelled, more's the pity.

"Pulling Missouri out of the mud" is what they call Gov. Major's call for 100,000 citizens to work the roads. As the drought there has made the roads knee deep in dust, there seems to be a case of misnomer.

The United States Hay Fever Association is in annual session at Bethlehem, N. H. The oldest sneezer present has been sneezing for 88 years. Kerchoo!

A Lexington saloon keeper was fined $100 for resisting an officer. This curtailment of their rights calls for investigation. The average saloon keeper in Lexington seems to think he is a law unto himself.

The editor of the Falmouth Pendletonian has made the remarkable discovery that women are smarter than men. If he keeps imbibing knowledge he may after awhile have to admit that they also are prettier and sweeter than men.

A preacher at Henderson was fined $25 for telling a woman who boasted she was the first of her sex to vote at her precinct that it was a disgrace instead of an honor for a woman to want to wear breeches, adding some other uncomplimentary things. This shows that there are some things that even a preacher cannot do with impunity.

Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Ross are rejoicing over the arrival of a new baby boy at their home.

Mrs. Belle Lear and daughter, Miss Alma, have returned from Niagara Falls and other Northern points.

Miss Jennie Higgins, our efficient superintendent of schools, and sister, Miss Sue, have returned from Lake Clatskanie.

Prof. R. A. London, of Bowling Green, has arrived with his family and will take rooms at Mrs. Vins McWhorter's, and will be ready to open school on September 8th.

Our old friend W. L. Todd, who lives above Paint Lick, on the creek, is one of Garrard and Madison's best farmers, and is the boss hog raiser of this county. He sold E. L. Woods 70 head that tipped the beam over 300 pounds, that brought $8.50 per hundred, that figures out $1,575.00. He has never raised a pound of tobacco, and says he never intends to while he lives. Hogs, cattle, horses and mules are the products of his farm.

Delegates Appointed.

Madison Lodge No. 14 I. O. O. F. selected Monday night delegates to the Grand Lodge, which meets at Paducah on the 14th of October. These selected were—C. C. Wallace, A. J. Sutt, B. Jett, W. J. Stewart, C. D. Shepherd, Lewis Powell and Walter Wilburn. Madison Lodge is one of the most progressive and prosperous Odd Fellow lodges in the State. It has a membership of about 200 and six candidates for the initiation and first degree next Monday night. The degree will be conferred by A. B. Kunk's crack team. All Odd Fellows of the county are urged to be present.

The Dog Days Again.

July and August used to be called very commonly the "dog days," and the term is still often heard. Most persons seem to think that the name is due to a special susceptibility of dogs to "go mad" during hot weather. The term has no reference to dogs however, but was given by the Romans, who called the time while the earth is nearest to Sirius, the dog star, dies canis, the days of the dog. It is not frequent during July and August as it is during February and March. Dogs are no more to be feared now than at other times. They often need water and find it hard to get it sometimes, and much needless cruelty is inflicted on them. Some persons are suspicious of them because the dog days have been given a bad name.—New York Herald.

Dave Rankin, near Hubble, sold 60 hogs to V. A. Lear, of Lancaster, at 8-40, average weight 200 lbs. Ben Wright, of Danville, purchased of Frank Bourne, of Garrard, a mule, for $162.50. He also bought a pair of mules for $363.—Stanford Interior Journal.

WINCHESTER COURT.—On the live stock market, Hamilton Stock Yards reported about 1,200 cattle on the market, with good feeders selling at 6 to 6 3-4c and fat yearlings at 6c. The trade was not as brisk as was expected in the cattle line. Sheep were dull, with about 500 on the market, and $5 being asked for stockers and 3c per pound for fat sheep. There were no hogs offered. At the Central Yards about 300 cattle were on hand and the same prices prevailing. Cattle seem to be higher than for some years at this season. Many farmers are holding for 9c on exporters, believing the market will reach that point within the next few weeks. It seems as if the prediction may prove right, from the way the price for feeders looked on Monday.

We receive every morning a full line of green vegetables and would be glad to supply your wants. Phone 72 & 144 Covington Thorpe Co. 57-11.

THE MEXICAN SITUATION.

Some time ago President Wilson sent Ex-Gov. Lind, of Wisconsin, as his special envoy to make peace proposals to Huerta. These embraced cessation of hostilities and an armistice, an early free election, with Huerta not a candidate and with all parties to abide by the election. Huerta rejected the proposals, saying that an armistice was impossible, that the people of Mexico should say for whom they should vote and that it was impossible to agree that all parties shall abide the election. Minister (Ambassador) Lister to Gov. Lind was both saucy and ill-mannered.

Finding that his good offices were rejected, President Wilson delivered in person Wednesday a message to Congress, relating these facts and picturing the utter helplessness of Mexico if she maintained her present attitude. He recommended a firm neutral stand with the so-called Republic and hands off till Huerta shall awake to the real condition. No arms will be permitted to be shipped to any part of Mexico and the troops on the border are urged to increased vigilance. He appeals to Americans to leave the country and offer aid in every way to those who are without means of leaving. At the same time, notice is served upon those in authority that they will be held to definite reckoning for losses and suffering of American citizens.

The President has not given up hope of a resumption of friendly consideration of the situation and admonishes patience and an exercise of self-restraint. Every possible means must be exhausted before other steps are taken.

The reading of the message was listened to with eager silence and at its close the members of all parties cheered the President for minutes. His stand seems to meet the approval of all good citizens and the message and his previous action have made him a greater object than ever of popular favor. He is equal to all emergencies and a statesman of a high order.

MAINE ELECTION.

Unusual interest is felt in the election to be held in the Third Congressional District of Maine, September 8, to fill vacancy occasioned by the death of the Republican incumbent, Representative Forest Goodwin. The deceased, who was an orthodox Republican, of indisputable party record, was barely able to pull through last fall, although the district is normally largely Republican, because there was a decided trend to tariff reform as promised by the Democratic platform. The administration has not been able yet to put through the tariff reduction bill, which passed the House by such a tremendous majority, though the indications point strongly to success before very long. How the voters now feel toward the administration is problematical.

In the present campaign there are three candidates—Democrat, Progressive and Republican—and prominent speakers from all over the country are to take to the campaign. Former Senator Ives (Ige, of India), is on hand whooping "em up for the Bull-moosers whose hopes, they claim, are rising high. The chances seem to favor the Democrats, however, as the people are for the new tariff bill, and know that it would have been passed long ago but for the slow-going Senate and some teacalculating Democrats.

Maine was for nearly half a century an impregnable Republican stronghold, but since the election of a Democratic Governor a few years ago and a Democratic United States Senator, that party can no longer take things for granted. It has to fight now for everything it gets, where formerly elections went their way almost without any effort. Things have changed there, as elsewhere, and the people are thinking for themselves. Maine no longer goes hell bent for Governor Kent, or any other Republican, and she is almost as debatable ground as Indiana and Ohio.

JUDGE JOHN M. LASSING announces that he will resign his office of Appellate Judge, to take effect Sept. 16, for the purpose of returning to the practice of law. When Gov. Beckham appointed Judge Lassing, then a circuit judge, to fill a vacancy, it was charged that it was more because of the Judge's political influence than of his capacity. However, that may be, he has made good on the bench, and if he had done nothing else than write the decision on the Louisville election case, that alone would entitle him to lasting praise. Judge Lassing is said to have made some fortunate investments and is a very rich man. It is also said that he has been offered a retainer by a big firm of more than his salary.

The appointment of Hon. William Jennings Price, of Danville, to be minister to Panama was a great victory for him and cause of genuine satisfaction to his friends. Most applicants for office secure the services of a press agent and hire a brass band. Not so with Mr. Price. He kept his own counsel and went systematically to work on those who would at last determine the appointment. The result was when his good fortune was announced it came as a surprise. The position pays $10,000 a year, $1,500 is allowed for rental and there is perhaps some perquisites. It will therefore be seen that Mr. Price has a mighty nice thing and the best of it is he is capable and deserves it. He has devoted much time to helping Democratic nominees and has gotten less for it than anybody. Patience and hard work have their reward and no one begrudges the Danville man his. Mr. Price's selection eliminates a very dangerous candidate for Congress in this district and those with an eye on the office are more elated over his appointment than they dare admit.

A New York judge has virtually decided that all is fair in love, as it is said to be also in war. A property youth in a theatre fell in love and in order to win the object of his affections told her his salary was $30. The girl thought that they might live on that sum and accepted him. Matters ran smoothly for awhile, but the real situation could not long be concealed and then the young husband vamoosed the ranch in preference to listening to the sweet voice of his deceived and disappointed wife. She brought suit for divorce, but the judge dismissed it, saying, it is a well known principle that in the state of mental exaltation accompanying courtship, statements made as to mental, moral or financial qualifications of the accused may not be too closely scrutinized, nor shall they be held to a strict accountability thereafter. That may be good law in New York, but we would not advise young men to try it in Kentucky. They might not fare so well.

Mrs. THOMAS R. MARSHALL, wife of the Vice-President, is the most democratic woman in Washington. A social exclusiveness surrounds a Vice-President's wife equal to that of the President, but Mrs. Marshall didn't pay attention to that. She returns all calls made upon her and since March 4 has made about 1,600. She says that it has been a great pleasure to her instead of the disagreeable task pictured. She does not walk like most women to find the hostess out, but goes when she knows that she is in. Mrs. Marshall must be strangely constituted. Calling is a bore to most women, while usually the called-on are bored to death. Ordinarily this social business is a weariness of the flesh that must be endured. It is rarely enjoyed and they who say it is are usually prevaricators.

Editor HARRY A. SOMMERS, of the Elizabethtown News, reads the quill drivers of the State a lecture on the evil of seeking office, and adds that it is a shame to spoil a good newspaper man to make a politician. Good advice and sensible deduction. With one or two exceptions the editors who stood for office before the last primary came out in the class of "also rans," showing that the people agree with Editor Sommers, on the proposition.

There has been considerable talk of Mr. Sommers for Governor, doubtless without his connivance. Are we to take it from his article that he will not be a candidate? It is hoped not. He is one of the few good editors who is also a good politician. Besides, he is admirably equipped for the office.

Two years ago owing to a split in the Democratic party Hon. J. T. Tunis, a wholesale groceryman, was elected Senator over Hon. Thomas A. Combs, in the Fayette district. He was simply the beneficiary of the conditions, and although a fine gentleman, could not have beaten Combs without them more than he could fly. They will be pitted against each other again this fall. The Democrats selected Mr. Combs to direct their campaign and now the Fusionists, an aggregation of Republicans and sore-bones of other parties have named Senator Tunis to direct theirs. The outcome is not problematical. The Democrats will win a walk. Mr. Combs knows the business. Senator Tunis is a novice.

BOOKER WASHINGTON, the greatest Negro who ever lived, in an address before the National Negro League at Philadelphia last week, advised the members of his race that of all others the South was the place for them to go and settle, because he said every line of endeavor was open to them and the 200,000,000 acres of land were waiting for them to cultivate. Work, seek education and eschew politics, was his advice, which it followed will take the Negro out of the rut he has fallen in. Thorace needs more Booker Washingtons with voices that can be heard all over the land, calling the race from idleness and ignorance to labor and enlightenment.

Every year until this one there was a cry of insufficient money to move the crops, and when the producer could secure funds at all it was at a high rate of interest. We don't hear this cry any more. We have a Secretary of the Treasury who knows how to do things and does them. He has turned loose fifty millions of idle money from the treasury at a rate of interest that will pay the Government and still give the banks a good margin, while not permitting the farmers to be robbed.

No President ever used purer English than Woodrow Wilson, or selected better words to convey his meaning. He also takes care not to split his infinitives. His message on the Mexican situation is a State paper that will live and be quoted for hundreds of years hence.

Waxes asked how he felt by the Canadian field physician, Harry Elwell said, "Rotten." Such a creature as he is and always was could not help feeling that way, if he feels as he is.

Editors Eulogized.

Our friend, Mr. Clarence E. Woods, of the Weekly Lake Region at Eustis, Fla., sends us a long letter extolling the virtues of the Richmond editors, but we fear readers would not stand for its publication, even though it tickles the editors to death. If they want to read what Mr. Woods says they are invited to call and peruse.

A Big Haul.

Chief J. H. Allman arrested Clay Jones as he arrived from Lexington with 51 quarts of whisky and at his trial he was sentenced to 30 days in jail by Judge Greenleaf, who suspended the sentence for a while. As other parties claimed the whisky, it was not confiscated.

Useless to Hoard.

Those who have been saving Indian nickels with the hope that they will be valuable because the issue will be recalled, had as well let the circulation. The Treasurer says it has not been recalled and it is not likely to be. The ugly things should never have been sanctioned.

This statement I take great pleasure in making: Dr. T. B. Smith cured my sister, Mildred Richards, of consumption 43 years ago, after being given up by physicians and after being thought dead once or twice. It was a marvelous cure. W. P. Richards, Nicholasville, Ky.

Philip Baird, New Philadelphia, Ohio states:

"I had three specialists to treat my wife; they told me she had tuberculosis or consumption and could not get well. ### A Splendid Investment

Northern Louisiana Plantation For Sale.

This plantation contains 1,800 acres, of which 800 are in a high state of cultivation. Remainder of the place is in virgin hardwood timber, which, if worked out and sold in log at present prices, will pay twice for the land it stands on.

The soil of this place is of alluvial deposit, rich and productive. It is suitable for corn, cotton, cane, oats, alfalfa, lespedeza and red clover. This land is high, dry, well drained, and does not overflow. It is in the artesian water belt.

The property is located on good graded road; in four miles of railroad, is close to churches and good school.

The improvements consist of an eight room, two-story residence, together with all necessary outbuildings, two mule barns, implement house, auto house, blacksmith shop, cotton gin and 25 good tenant houses.

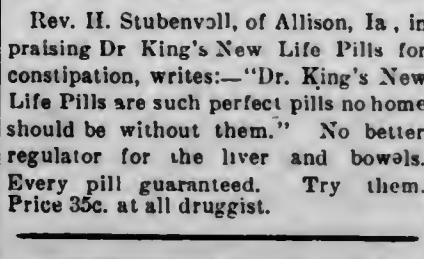

This property, which is owned by an old gentleman, who, on account of extreme age, is desirous of retiring from farming, can be bought at the low price of $25 per acre, on very liberal terms, and at that price is included all the implements necessary for the cultivation of the place, and thirty two head of good young mules and horses.

This plantation, now stocked with high class labor, is located in the neighborhood of the large plantation recently purchased by Messrs. Thomas H. Col. line and Oscar J. Patton. Also it is located in one of the best live stock sections of Louisiana, and would make an ideal stock ranch. To any one who is looking for an investment, I will say that there is not an acre of this plantation that won't produce any acre you pick in Kentucky in dollars and cents when it comes to the investment.

I will take pleasure in furnishing any further information you may wish. 92 St. J. T. FERRILL, Richmond, Ky.

The Spreader Sensation of the Year. We Have the Agency For It. It is the Steel Frame

Low Spread Manure Spreader

Have you ever seen any spreader with more or as many good features? Waist high box—easy to load; makes the shortest turns and spreads evenly at corners; spreads when turning either way; positive force feed—no rolling forward of the load when the manure is moved toward the beater; even spreading until the last forkful is spread; made in seven sizes; wide and narrow boxes; special attachments for drilling and spreading lime.

Ask us also about our new wide spread attachment which scatters manure over an area eight feet wide—a very handy and convenient device for top dressing growing corn.

The next time you are in town stop and get a catalogue. Ask us to show you this machine—to show you how it will save work and increase profits. Give us a chance to prove that the Low Spread tops them all.

He has filled other engagements of great note, and sang in one theatre in Jacksonville, Fla., for 29 weeks. He is singing to capacity houses at THE ALHAMBRA and his rich baritone voice is greatly appreciated. He has been receiving on the average two encores with every song. If you have not heard him, come and do so.

Printed Matter in Parcel Post.
A letter from Congressman A. R. Rouse to the editor of The Climax contains a communication from the Postmaster General, advising him that letter heads, bill heads, envelopes, etc., mainly blank, are fourth-class mail, and, when sent unsealed, are chargeable with postage at the rate set forth in sections 3 and 7 of the parcel post regulation.

At Home Again.
The late editor of The Climax, Mr. E. C. Walton, publishes a feeling and appropriate salutatory in the Orlando, Fla., Reporter-Star, of August 26th. It is like getting back home to him, and he acknowledges that in leaving there he made a greater mistake than any that Bob Ingersoll credited to Moses. Orlando is one of the greatest towns of its size in the country, and has as promising a future as any in the State. Its population is growing by leaps and bounds and will more than double in this decade. A newspaper there is a gold mine, which will give up nuggets of increasing size as the years go by.

Vaudeville and Pictures.
Feature vaudeville act at the Opera House tonight by Deasy and Delmos, singing, dancing and roller skating, and the Reliance two reel feature picture with Irving Cummings and the excellent Reliance players. The greatest character ever attempted and staged by Oscar Appell. The third reel is a split-reel Keystone comedy entitled "That Darktown Belle." Saturday night a Broncho two reel feature "Heart Throbs" and an American comedy. Positively the best show anywhere for ten cents.

Teachers' Institute.
In session at Caldwell High School, closes this afternoon, after a most interesting week. There were 83 Madison county teachers in attendance and 18 visiting teachers. Prof. T. J. Coster has proven himself a capable instructor and his work will be felt for good the coming school year. A large number of subjects were discussed, the teachers taking part in most of the discussions. The Institute was divided into six sections, which had round-table talks. The question of the best books for teachers to read was one of the subjects and the teachers resolved to read one Kentucky Circle Book at least and other books, which they are to pass around after using. Monthly teachers' meetings in each of the sections, which include 12 teachers, will be held during the year, some of them public.

The principals of the Waco and Kingston High Schools are the supervisors of the county and they devote much of their time to visiting the schools and reporting to the educational committee. With their visits and that of Supt. John Noland the schools are kept well under eye. During the week Miss Laura D. Clay, of Lexington, addressed the teachers on "The Rights of Women," with special reference to suffrage, the subject nearest her heart and which she is ever ready to discuss.

"Cheap" Tailoring
"Havana" Cigars

Did you ever notice the large box of cigars which sets on the case in the average cigar store—the one labelled "Havana Smokers" or some similar name? You asked the salesman if they were "real, sure enough Havana" cigars. They looked so inviting that they actually resembled to 10-cent straight variety. Be he, being and honest man, told you what?

Exactly This:
"Well, yes, in this respect. They are the 'cuttings' left over from the 10-cent goods. It is 'short-filler' of course and is a fair 'nickel' cigar. No, it doesn't compare with our long leaf Havana pure tobacco cigars at 10 cents."

Don't Buy "Short-Filler" Tailoring
It is "pure wool" in this respect: It contains the "short-cuttings"—the "shoddy" and left-overs which the better grade of tailors like Ed. V. Price & Co. of Chicago, refuse. You can't get long leaf Havana nor superior long wool fibre for "short-filler" prices. Tailoring of this class doesn't even represent "fairly good" clothes. Yet, certain over-anxious dealers offer you "$25 and $30 tailoring for $15." The cigar dealer tells you that 5c won't buy a 10c value. See the difference? Come in and let us prove it—ANYTIME!!
